Students

Back in 1838 when the city of Newark was a small town of only 16,000 inhabitants, teacher, disciplinarian and principal Nathan Hedges opened an old building, establishing the first public high school in the state of New Jersey. Today after 170 years, four moves and a change of name, Barringer High School is having its 170th graduation.

Barringer High School has been a rising star since 1838. It is known for the historical milestone of being the third oldest high school in America. Until this day it upholds its legacy of fine education and positive school environment.

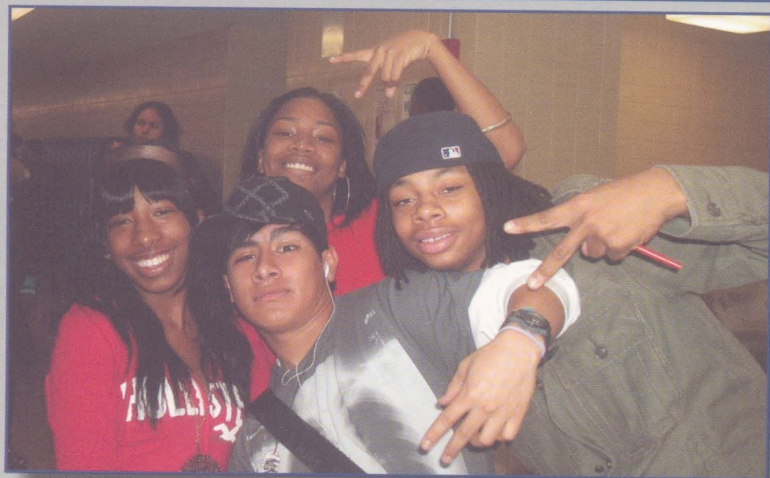

In Action

Over the years, students at Barringer have been working together to maintain their pride and dignity. We are very appreciative and thankful for the lessons that we have been taught because it will help us to further our education and develop our careers in the near future.

We the students at Barringer know how it feels to be criticized, and not be recognized. The stigma seems to be the perception of the community we live in. The community which we admire and will contribute to its development. Never the less we look on the brighter side and see the opportunities available to us, recognizing them as great advantages.

The Memorial Window That Commemorates a Tragedy

By the year 1910, the horseless carriage honked and chugged along the streets in Newark. For Barringer students however, the means of transport was the trolley car. . On February 19, 1903, more than 120 passengers, mostly Barringer students were packed on a trolley heading north on Clifton Avenue from the Orange Street stop at about 8:45 AM. The air was crisp and filled with student song. As the trolley neared the Lackawanna tracks, a speeding Bernardsville Special whistled its approach from the West. The Clifton Avenue crossing gate went down and the motorman applied his brakes. As the trolley slid on and through the gates, passengers watched in horror as the train bore down on them. The locomotive shattered the trolley, strewing the student's bodies along the tracks. Nine Barringer students were killed, and thirty were injured. Nearly every room in the school was affected, with a child dead or in the hospital.

On December 3, 1904, memorial window was dedicated to the victims of this terrible tragedy. This stained glass window, which was originally installed above the entrance in the old Barringer, now sits in the present building on the north wall of the auditorium exterior. The scene in the window depicts the education of a Native American boy. A tablet below the window, lists the names of the victims of the accident.

A brief history of Barringer High School...

Our school, originally named Newark High School, was the first story of a building on Bank Street. At that time Newark had a population less than the total number of students attending Barringer today. Mr. Nathan Hedges was the only faculty member to 91 pupils.

About 1850, a Board of Education was created and in 1852, it authorized the acquisition of a 90 foot lot on the corner of Washington and Linden Streets. Still incomplete this new -three stories high- building was opened in January 1853 with a population of 498 boys and girls.

As the nineteenth century showed marked progress throughout the city of Newark the enrollment in the high school increased dramatically. Newark was fast becoming a metropolis.

Around that time William Barringer was Superintendent of schools. He persuaded the Board of Education to enlarge the building. After several additions the Board of Education realized that a new building was necessary. About 1895, construction plans were officially adopted for a new structure.

The site selected was a remote section of town known as the "goat hill" area. This site is where the faculty lot is now. This site was far from the center of the city and many citizens objected to the location. They protected that the city would never enlarge to those extremes and particularly not in that direction.

At that time the Basilica of Sacred Heart showed only the outline of its ground plan. Work had begun also on the swamp to transform it into a park. It was said that the school was set on a veritable acropolis of beauty.

The name of the school was officially changed to Barringer in 1907, honoring Dr. Barringer.

In 1951 the Newark Board of Education requested a study on the conditions of Barringer High School. Dangerous cracks in the external walls along with a roof in an advanced state of deterioration were found. Open wiring throughout the school presented a fire threat. They recommended abandoning the school plant at the earliest possible date. However the building of the new school (the present one) did not take place until 1963.

While the total population of Newark increased slightly, the Black residents number rose by 60 percent. But even though black students comprised about 60 percent of the total Newark school enrollment, Barringer's student population was 90 percent white.

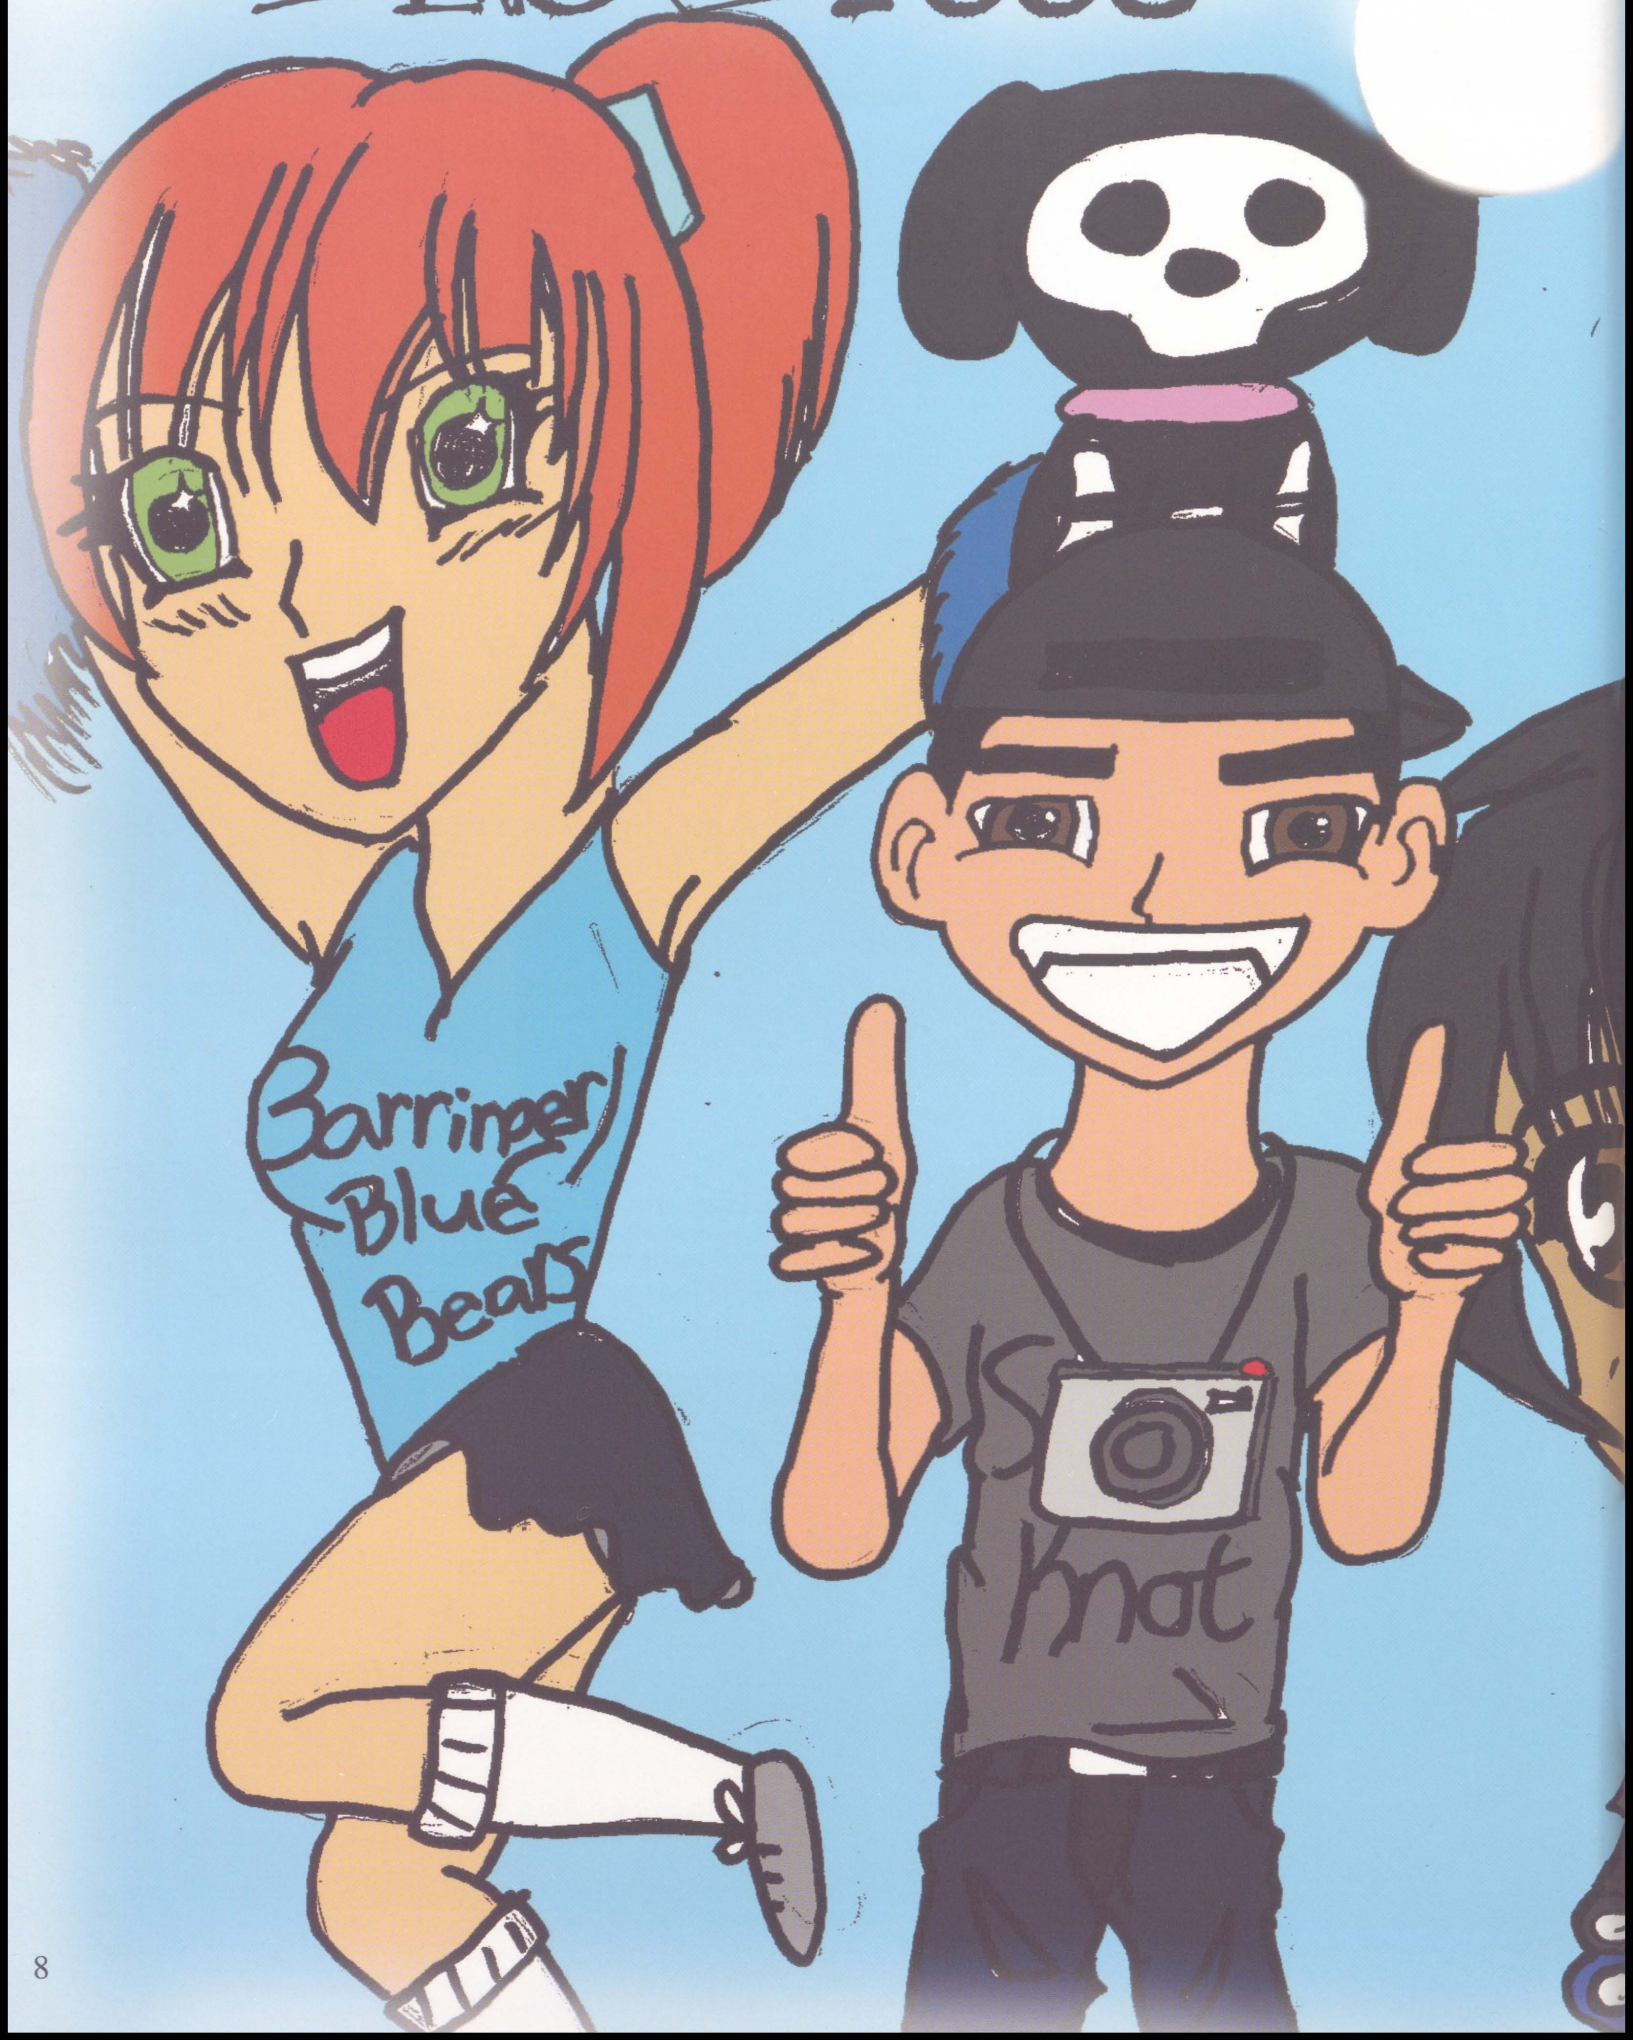

Because of the increase in the size of the new school, it was natural to assume that the student population would increase. However, the district lines were redrawn adding no less than a thousand students to the school. The school became a huge new plant already over crowded. The relatively small black student population became much larger through the redistricting.

By the 1980's the Hispanic population at the school began to increase until their enrollment at the school reached about 60 percent of the student body.

Some students that are forced into the real world after graduation may crack under the intense pressure and the harsh people they encounter. It is also possible that the individuals may not be prepared for the stunning truth that they are not the best at what they do. Fortunately, this is a feeling that most Barringer students will not have to undergo; in the student's senior year, they receive constructive criticism and with this, it enables them to move forward into the tough dog-eat-dog world. Not only does this allow students to accept what ideas and truths they may hear, but the hands on experience in their high school stimulates an adult dynamic that many students aren't aware of until after they graduate.

The expectancy for all graduating students at Barringer High School is pure success. Each graduate had the support from the teachers that assisted them to achieve their potential. Each student also has an incredible determination that cannot be destroyed. Success, they have learned, can be achieved through hard work and perseverance, so it is only a matter of time when they will each achieve the dreams considering they aspire too.

The careers of Barringer graduates are nothing short of impressive. They have selected professions that are extremely prestigious: professor of anthropology, graphic designer, medical engineer, chef, and executive positions. Each of these careers are all incredibly difficult and our graduates are fully prepared for the consequences that they may encounter. They will not settle for less than the best, which makes them more valuable than anyone competing. Barringer High School graduates will not rest until they reach their definition of success.

As products of our guidance, we are depending on you to make the difference in what has become the Rebirth of Barringer and our community.

A famous African proverb reminds us, "It takes a village to raise a Child." Seniors, although you will always exist as our offspring, it is your turn, now as you venture into our community 'village'. To assist the youth around you who are coming up to join you shortly. Pass on the wisdom you have gained and guide others as they work towards a successful future.

Students, it is your birth given right to take your place as the torchbearers of the future and the baton holders of humanity. I would like you to continue to learn the skills and strategies that are required to make just fair decisions that will impact, change, and further benefit your life. As young adults, you have a responsibility to your future and the future of Newark. Be aware of the social and political issue within you and works outwardly. Take pride in yourself and believe that by taking a stand and believing in yourselves, you can achieve any goal or aspiration.

A special thank you is extended to your parents for all their support. I applaud and thank them for encouraging and influencing your lives. I will continue to work with students in order to help our youth reach their fullest potential and become productive members of our community and society. A wise person said, "Success may be measured by personal accomplishments but true success comes only from helping others." With these words in mind, I make a promise to you today to continue to support our students here at Barringer High School, at the same time I will ask that you make the same promise. Vow to continue to support others along your life journey so that you may experience the joy of "True Success."

Let's work together to continue the success of our school and community rebirth. I will continue to support the creativity, hard work, and dedication of teachers and staff as they continue to help mold and shape our students. I will continue to encourage teachers to align their lessons with the New Jersey State Core Curriculum Content Standards to continue to meet the needs of young men and women, assisting them in envisioning as well as obtaining technical assistance, resources, and tools that will enable them to give quality instruction.

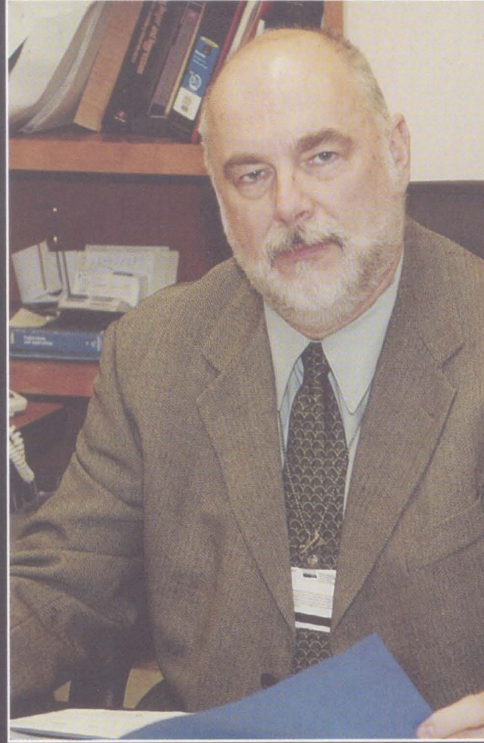

I encourage you to continue your quest for "True Success" by volunteering your time to mentor, teach, and positively guide the underclassmate so that you may serve as role models of experience. As community members, parents, teachers, and staff, we are the 'village'. It is our responsibility to raise our standards by providing nourishing foods of thought; remembering always that the diet for survival lies within quality education.

GREGORY FEEHAN

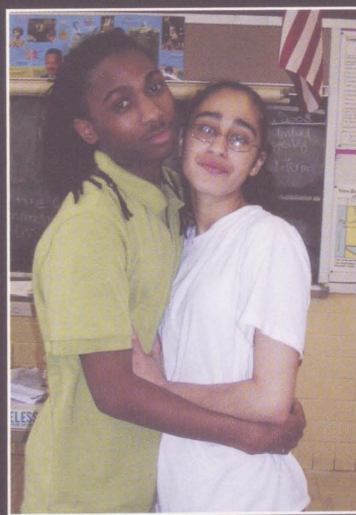

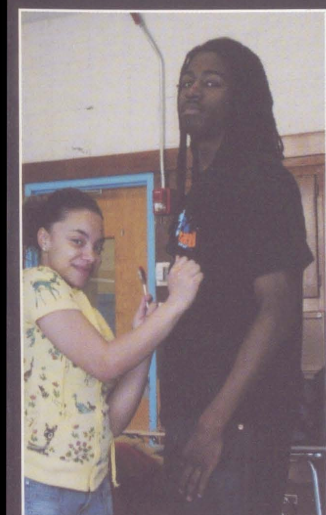

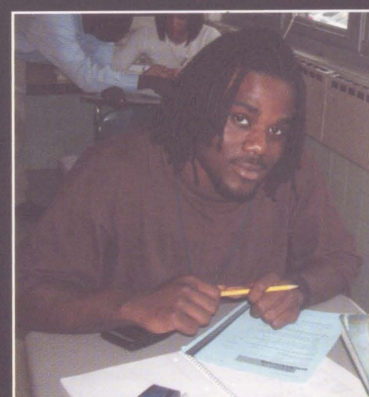

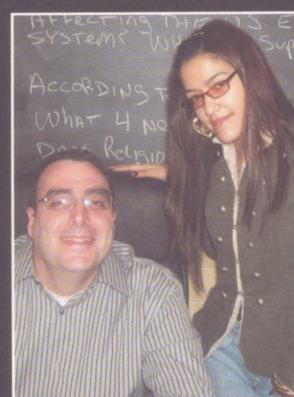

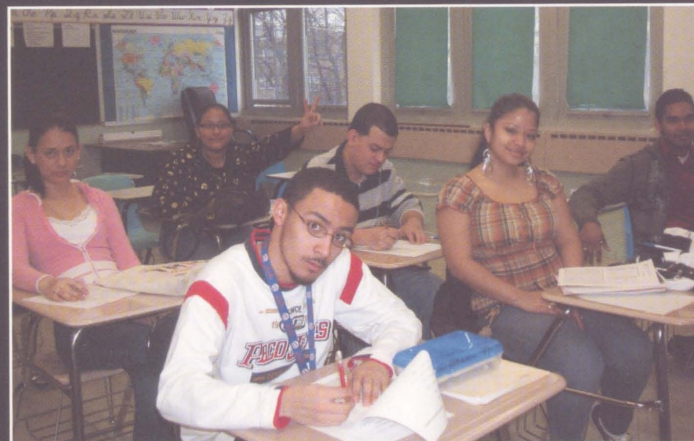

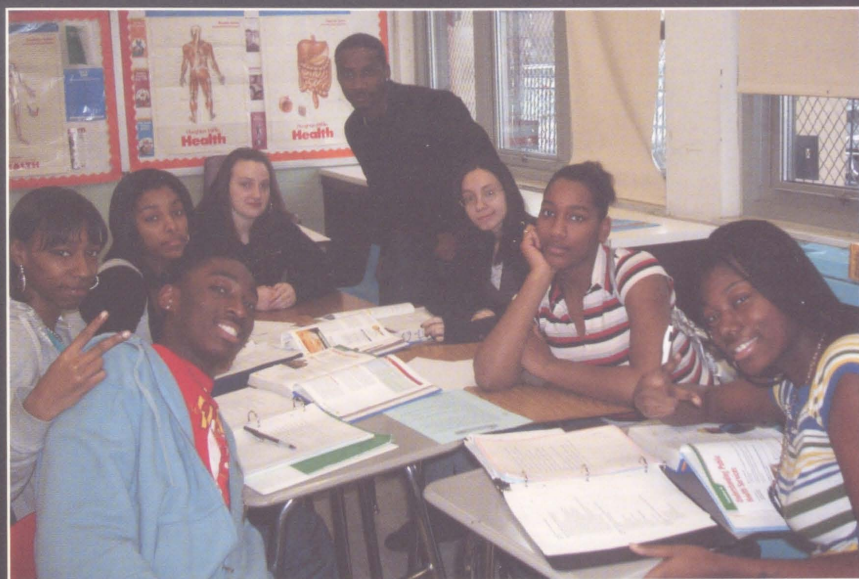

Students are shaped by great teachers and a caring staff. Mrs. Carmen Ruiz and Mr. Gregory Feehan have given many years of service to the students of Newark Public Schools. Mrs. Ruiz came to Barringer High School to bring the pride back to our school. When we were desperate she held our hand. She often laughed with us, and sometimes shed a tear with us.

Mr. Feehan became the "voice" of Barringer. We will never forget his comments on the school's speaker giving directions and schedules for the day.

The one lesson that we will never forget was that they showed us how to become productive members of society. We thank them for helping us to prepare for our futures.

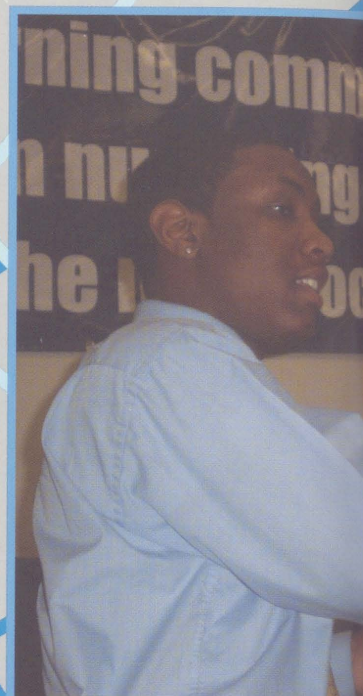

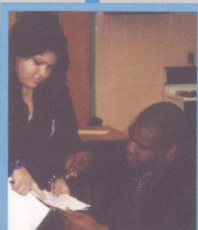

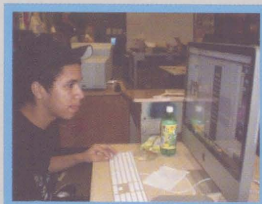

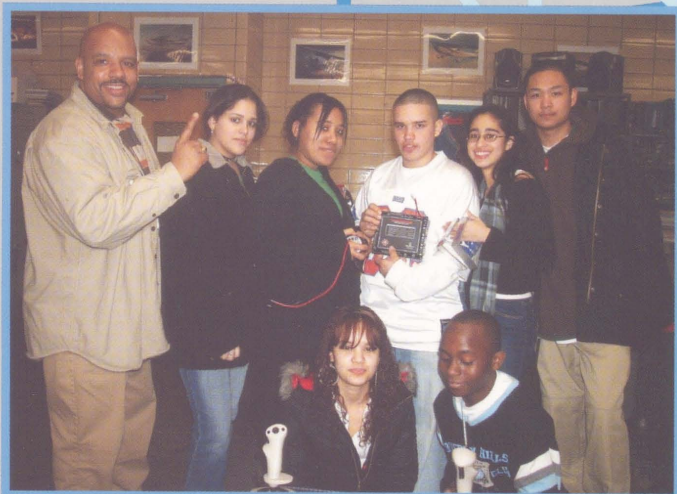

Mrs. Ruiz and Mr. Feehan, we appreciate your support over the years, and wish you both a long and healthy retirement.

The yearbook committee is one of the most popular functions of a high school. And in Barringer, Yearbook is truly spectacular. Not only does the group learn to respect another member's ideas, but they share a work ethic that makes their main goal appear easy. The cohesiveness, under Mr Di Gerlando's tutelage was equal to that of a magazine association and those who worked on the Yearbook responded well to thinking under pressure. ACROPOLIS NEWS

Barringer's Acropolis News staff is a hard-working team that focuses on the latest trends, school related stories and other subjects that teenagers are interested in. The core topics evolve from depth and student discussion. Each person is an invaluable part of a strategic plan: At meetings, the writer reads their story to the group. The staff discusses the pros and cons of the story and eventually the group comes to such an amazing consensus, that the writer is able to produce a valid document. This year the staff tried to reflect on the 170th anniversary of Barringer by adding as special edition.

BASEBALL

Manny Betancourt

Every baseball player understands the meaning of team work. Barringer's baseball squad is no different. This team has practiced daily to be the best that they can be. They are individuals, who as a team, did not quit because of a loss. Instead, they worked even harder, to improve their skills, and develop a sense of camaraderie. Along the way they became part of a very successful baseball team.

Hard work and determination were the assets of the team. While the sophomores and juniors showed inexperience, over the season, they improved their skills. With the string of veterans coming back next year, the future looks bright.

"Instead of Just being friends on the field, we became more of a family. I won't play with anyone else" - Leo Lopez

Denize Rivera

This year more than ever before we can appreciate the advances that Barringer's Softball team has achieved. They are individuals who made an effort to play at their best so that not only their parents and friends were proud of them, but the entire school as well. Through their outstanding play on the field, as a team they upheld their reputation.

They practiced every day and in their games demonstrated outstanding offense as well as defense. With the young players working hard, this team will be a force to be reckoned with next year.

"Being on this team has been great this year. We missed our coach from last year, but Coach Powers really helped us a lot."

BOYS BASKETBALL

Hard work and collaboration make an exemplary team. Barringer basketball players have always proven their skills, not only to the school but to their opponents as well. With the help of talented coaches and Blue Bears fans the team has performed to their best this season. Next season, basketball will be a premiere sport.

Seniors Mike Cureton, Altee Thomas, Antar Wara, Kyle Rosebury, Bubby Clower's, Allen Weathers, Coach Fishetti, Linear Kornegay, Dawood Plant, Mark Duncan, Coaches Frank Schapitl and Anthony Fischetti.

A great jump by Antar Ward produces two points.

A fake shooting pass by Bubby Clowers to Altee Thomas leaves the defense in a shambles.

Allen Weather shows some fancy ball handling and footwork.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

The strength of the Girl's Basketball team this year was their ball handling skills. However, as the season progressed the team's offensive skills improved along with their efforts on fundamentals. Next year the coaches are hoping to improve on their record by working on the shooting performance of the returning players.

Barringer girl's basketball team demonstrate that they have the skills and potential to develop into a powerhouse through hard work. Even though Barringer has only three seniors on the team they were able to defeat stronger teams. Each player on the team showed equal efforts toward working as a single unit.

At the beginning the team was like a bag of marbles on the floor, scattered about in many directions. But as the year progressed the squad became more, and more cohesive, and began to think, feel and act like, a team and family.

FOOTBALL

Mark is getting ready to show his skills in the field as he launches the ball to make the play.

Barringer High has always been well known for its football team for many years with the exception for more recent years which has diminished our reputation, this story has changed this year. The team has done a lot better this year than in past years. It was a new beginning for the football team. It was a year of valuable learning experiences. Throughout the season, the seven returning varsity players had confidence that with hard work, practice, and encouragement, the team could successfully pull off another winning season.

This year's team not only worked and played hard, they demonstrated what a little school spirit can do for a team. The overall team performance led to an entertaining year. "The team performed well and reached our goals despite the a few games we lost. It was a great end to my high school career." The seniors Football team has moved on and by doing so has left a legacy that the upcoming seniors must follow.

Stephen Lighten, Mark Artis, Tim Brown, Khalif Jones, William Jones, Dion Scott, Clint Lewis, Jason Wallace, Ali Jones, Mark Duncan, Felix Andujar

The game has begun and the team is ready to show what they have practice. Having in mind that they must represent the school they move into the field with more than hope but a feeling of glory.

SOCCER

Over the last couple of years, no team has shown more determination or will power to perform their best and give 100% to everything they have done. When you look at Barringer's soccer team, one word comes to mind, "heart". Through controversy and struggle, the soccer team managed to put all their difficulties aside and demonstrate to everyone that they were here to play. In the past four years they have managed to make it to the city tournament three times, and during this time Barringer has been ranked number two in the city.

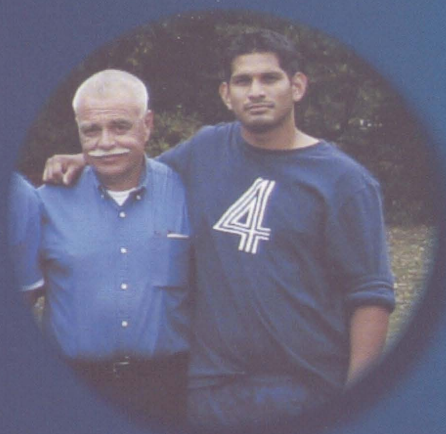

Overpowering some of the better teams in the league, Barringer beat Clifton and kept every game against a highly ranked team within a one goal margin. This all would not have been possible if it wasn't for the tenacity of the coaches and players. Besides equipment, Mr. Tylutki the head coach for over 15 years, has provided our players with spirit and encouragement.

TENNIS

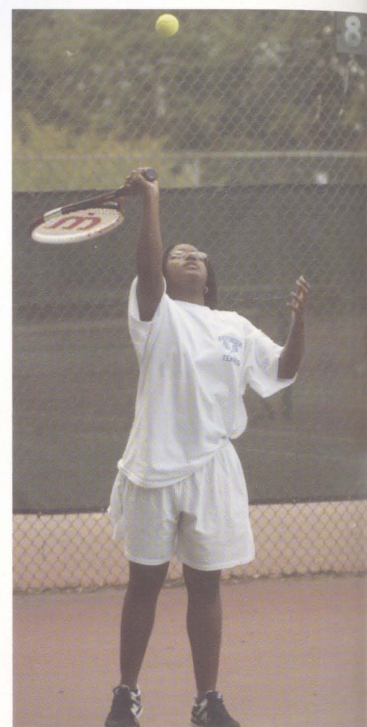

Barringer Girl's Tennis team is the squad that always exhibits great skills on the court. Toward the end of the season, players not only became better at the game but learned to appreciate the sport as well. This year's team was filled with poise, confidence and they were prepared to use their talents. The tennis team's ability to learn quickly made an inevitable contribution to the Barringer motto: "Truth, Honor, and Light" The genius of Coach Carlton Mosley made the young ladies perform with flying colors. The consensus among team members was that if they have the ability to drive themselves, the willingness to learn will help them make success.

Girls Volleyball is an exciting and energetic sport that is full of enthusiasm and earnestness. Barringer High has acquired some of the most talented and athletic girls that play, and we are fortunate to have them playing for Barringer High School Volleyball team. They ignite the spark needed to pursue a productive game, despite the odds. The pleasure and gratification that they achieve was appreciated and prized with respect.

WRESTLING

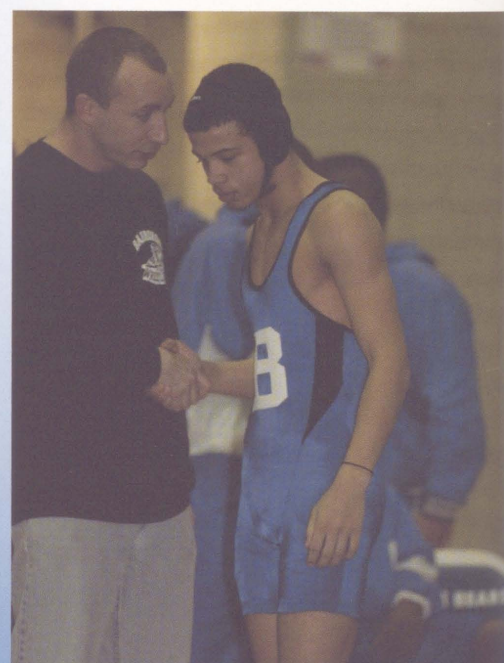

Clint Lewis poses for the camera, but in the ring he is one guy you don't want to mess with. He is also one of the best wrestlers in the county.

Wrestling is one of the most demanding sports an athlete can attempt, because almost every muscle in the body is involved in this sport, and knowledge of holds and moves creates winners. Wrestling builds the mind as well as the body. Discipline is most important in training and in the matches. Barringer wrestling team had a great season especially with their seniors that helped boost their record. Participation is the key for a great wrestling team.

They were determined to make the best of the time they had together this year. This team is composed of hard working individuals who shared the same goal, beat their opponents and have a good time during the process.

Student Life

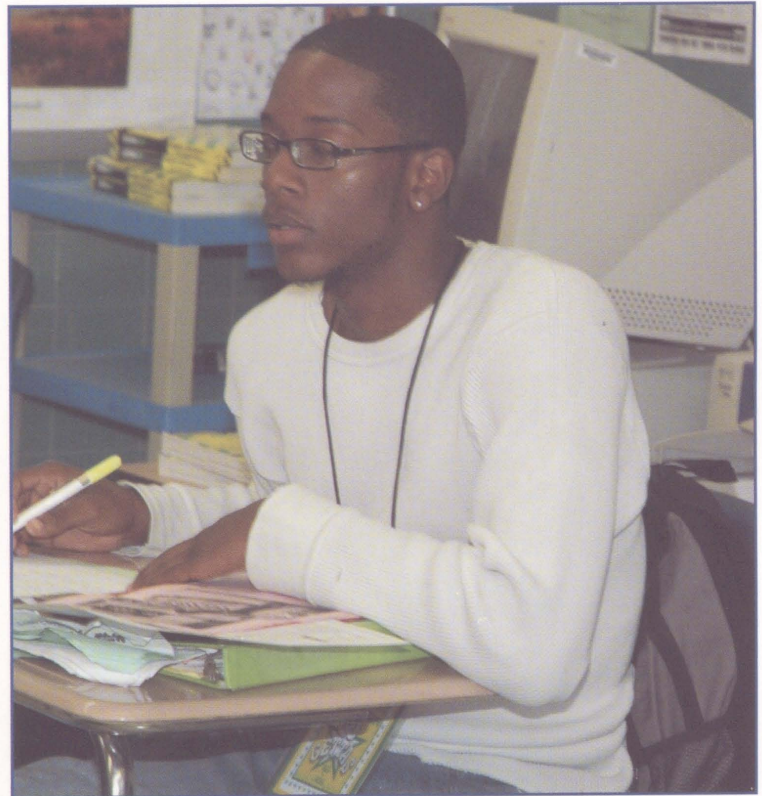

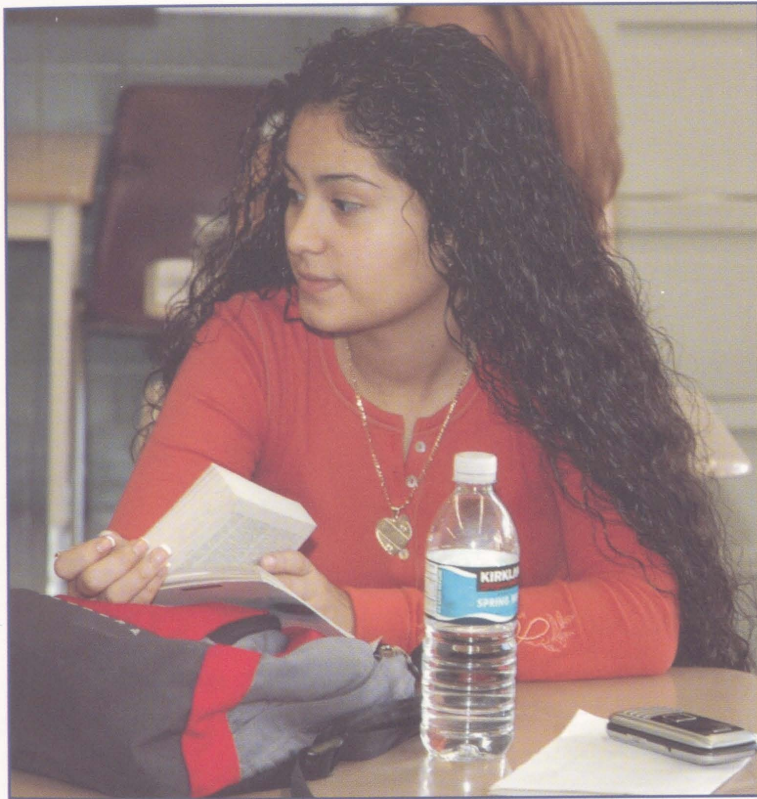

Continuing the Blue Line

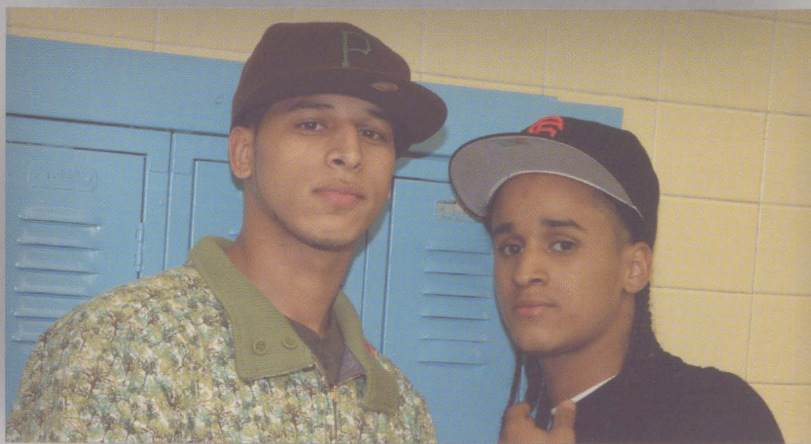

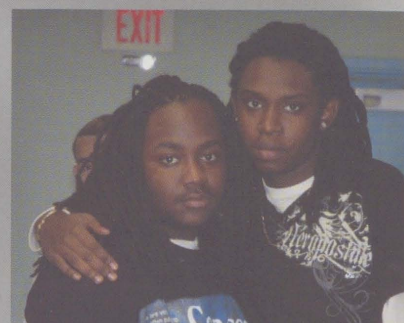

We the students at Barringer shared good times and bad times. There were times when we argued, shared ideas or laugh at silly jokes.

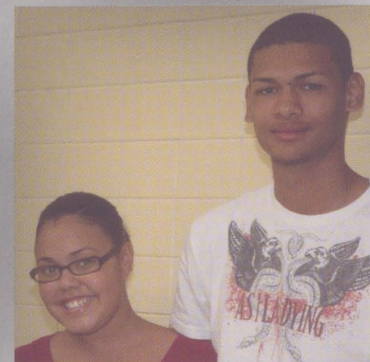

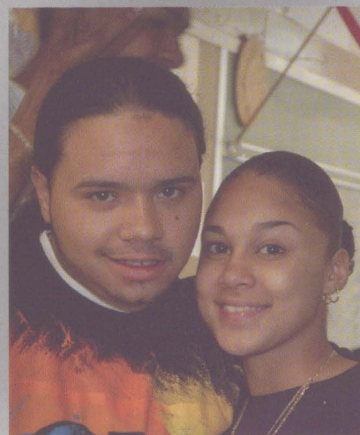

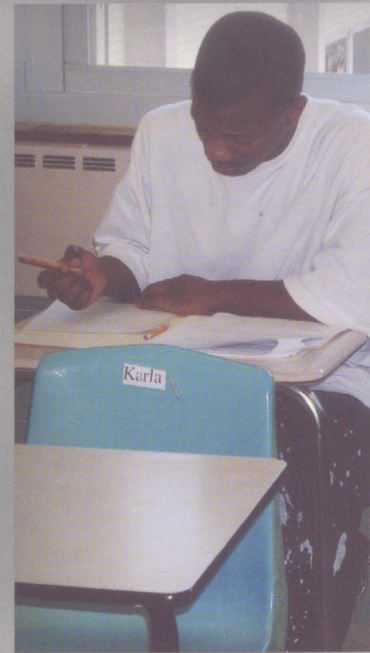

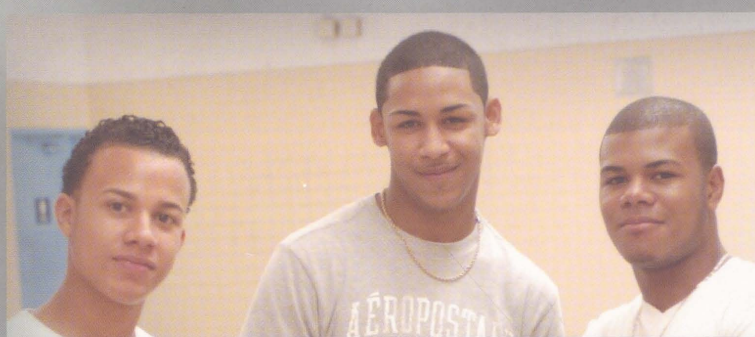

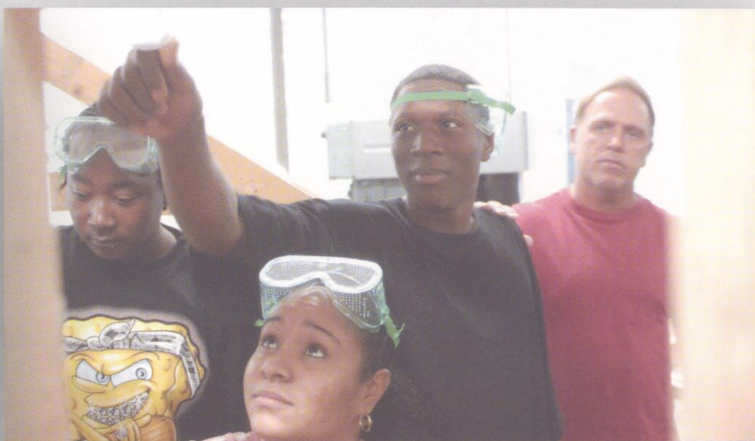

We look forward to a bright future where we can always remember barringer as the beginning of our success. A place where we became men and women , and where our teachers were like second parents.

Through our years at Barringer some made friends, some made enemies. But the most important thing of all is that our friendships will never end.

The yearbook and newspaper staff would like to congratulate the class of 2008 on their year of success. We would also like to thank Ms. Ruiz and Mr. Feehan for their hard work and dedication to Barringer High School. We wish them good luck in their retirement, and in all their future endeavors. Ms. Ruiz and Mr. Feehan, we are grateful for the affection you have demonstrated to us, and we appreciate everything you have done for all of us. You are etched in the unwritten history books of our hearts and will remain there for as long as we live.

To the teachers, faculty, and staff; we would like to extend our appreciation for the inspiration you had on our lives and on the lives of our peers. You are the people who defy those who badmouth this school.

You have been the heartbeat of this school. The stature of this school would be demolished without you; and so we thank you for caring and imparting in us the positive fundamentals and inspiring potential we needed to become educated catalysts for the betterment of our society.

Barringer's second school building
Opened in 1899-removed in 1964

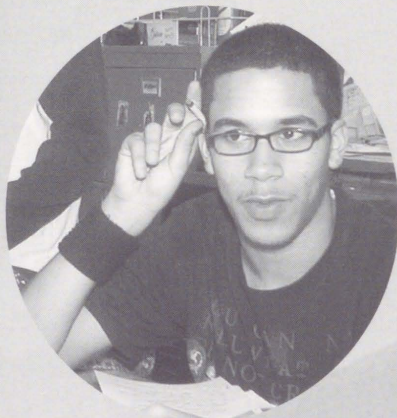

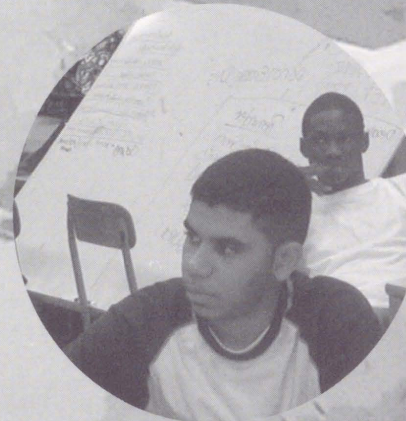

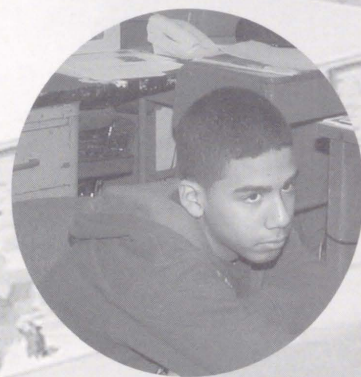

This year marks a remarkable anniversary for Barringer. Our school is now 170 years older, and 170 years stronger. Barringer enjoys a rich history that every student, teacher, clerk custodian, security guard, teacher aide, substitute, principal, cafeteria worker, etc. should be proud to be a part of.

As individuals dedicated to Barringer High School you are all already participants in the majestic 170 years of our school's history. You are part of the new, influential generation of this school and you helped us develop into future inspirational pioneers of this great country.

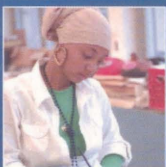

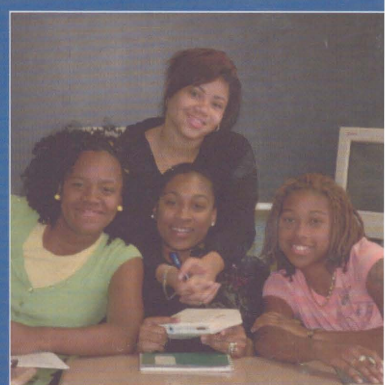

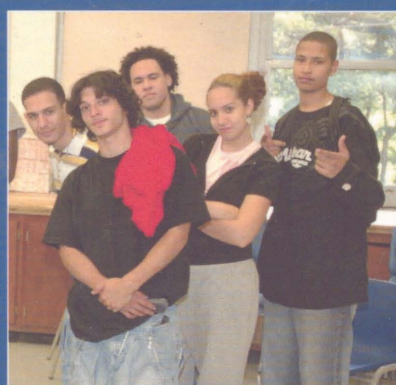

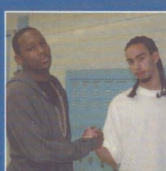

As we depart, we are hoping for further success to our school and more successors to be educated in this school. May Barringer continue to be a shelter for college bound students grasping everything they need to be victorious individuals in this country of possibilities. Education is a gateway to a whole new world of wisdom and independence with the guidance of those who care. The expansion of our knowledge is an endless road just waiting to be traveled.

Education and knowledge can lead one to two things. A job that pays the bills and a career that rewards the soul.

See you again at our first reunion!
